Introduction

Philosophy is hard to avoid, even with a conscious effort: everyone who thinks about how to live already holds some philosophy (Craig, 2002, p. 12). No esoteric training is needed to start, since there is no licence to think (Craig, 2002, p. 21).

Section 1: Export

Analytic philosophy did not begin with Russell. Its sources were the works of philosophers writing mainly in German, and its founder was Gottlob Frege (Dummett, 1996, pp. 7, 11).

Section 2: Test

Avatarobots risk turning deliberation into simulation and participation into performance (Vică (Constantin) et al., 2026, p. 22), which is why their use should meet three criteria: authenticity, non-domination and verifiability (Vică (Constantin) et al., 2026, p. 3).
